This If You
Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This does not destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

HIGHWAY ROBBER DISAPPOINTED BY MONEYLESS MAN

London G. Harper, an employee of the Navy Yard, who lives at 1315 Potomac avenue southeast, early today proved a disappointing victim of a bold negro highwayman, who held him up at the point of a pistol, demanding his money and valuables and threatening to kill him if he made an outcry. For all his during, the roadblock got no booty, as Harper had neither money nor jewelry in his pockets.

Harper was on his way home from work at 2 o'clock this morning when the negro approached him on Fourteenth street, between C and D streets southeast, and thrusting the pistol in his face shouted: "Give me your money and valuables."

Harper told the footpad he had no valuables and the negro rifled his pockets. Fearing that the negro would make good his threats, Harper made no attempt to summon assistance and after the highwayman had searched him he backed away with the threat, "If you shout, I will shoot!" Harper reported his experience to Fifth precinct police, giving a description of the negro. He said he could identify him if he is arrested.

PRO-GERMANS MAY LOSE
NATURALIZATION RIGHTS
The cancellation of the citizenship papers of a German-born American citizen, during him to the status of an enemy alien, such as was ordered by United States Judge Haight in the case of Frederick W. Wurster, a resident of Newark, N. J., established a precedent that may be applied to any naturalized citizen in this country who still evinces too much sympathy for the fatherland, officials at the Department of Justice said today.

INFANT ASYLUM
NEEDS STERILIZER
TO SAVE BABIES

If you want to save babies, you won't have to hunt far for the opportunity. It lies right here in Washington.

Babies sleeping two in a bed, babies sleeping in all sorts of improvised cribs, one baby sleeping in a crib made of a small portable bathtub, can be seen today at St. Ann's Infant Asylum, 2500 K street northwest. And they need a sterilizer for the babies' bottles.

"We have forty-seven infants under one year old," Sister Georgiana, in charge of the asylum, told The Times today. "We couldn't possibly make room for another. How are we to keep them alive through the hot summer? We need a sterilizer. We must have one."

"Each baby has to be fed seven times a day. That means seven times forty-seven bottles to be sterilized each day."

"We have got to get a sterilizer, one that will guarantee clean bottles for the babies. They talk of saving the babies—here are forty-seven they can save."

Baby lovers, here's your opportunity.

SQUADRON OF NEW
SUPER-SUBS LOST;
WENT ON CRUISE

ZURICH, May 12.—A whole squadron of German submarines, of a new large type, failed to return after a cruise, according to information received from a German source.

Other advisers said a near panic prevailed at Kiel and Wilhelmshaven (two of the main German naval bases) because the new British mine field in the North Sea is hindering the movements of submarines.

Consideration also is given because both U-boats and Zeppelins, the two German "U" boat bases on the Belgian coast, are now bottled up, the advisers stated.

FARRAR CHARMS AUDIENCE WITH RECITAL PROGRAM

It is always a piquant and bizarre. Geraldine Farrar that charms her audience, and yesterday was no exception to the rule when this little artist, with her beauty and her youthfulness, made a special appeal to the capacity house that greeted her at her recital in the National Theater. Assisting Miss Farrar were a trio of artists, Arthur Hackett, tenor, who completely won his audience, Joseph Mathin, cellist, and Carl Lamson, at the piano.

With a group of French songs and one of Russian songs sung in English, it was as an opera artist that this bright particular star from the Metropolitan Opera came into her own. The dramatic artist lends a real lure to the singing of "la belle Geraldine" and, when for the fourth of her five encores to the Russian group of songs, she gave the "L'amour est un oiseau" from Carmen she was entirely captivating.

In Butterfly Role.

Charm, too, was in the "Un bel di" from the Farrar role of Mme. Butterfly. In these roles she could not help but set a little and how lovely and bewitching she became. The childlike "Butterfly" in voice and interpretation put her at once into the picture. In these two roles, more than anything else Farrar evoked the goddess of imagination. In the Butterfly aria and a Rimsky-Korsakoff "Eastern Romance" her singing was at its best, with an exquisite pianissimo in the Russian song.

Strangely enough, it is a surprising small voice that has captured the Metropolitan. Nor is the song world the forte of this dramatic artist. Miss Farrar did not vary her phrasing in her songs did not put into them the subtle inner-meaning of the recitalist. The opera world is a thing apart and with so much to give to it, it seems amiss to leave it for song days. At the piano, in lighter vein, she won with "Mighty Lak a Rose" and "Annie Laurie," accompanying herself, and as the vital picture against a piano-fall of flowers with the tri-color around her for "The Marseillaise" and all the audience standing.

Hackett's Singing Excellent.

Arthur Hackett is the recital artist par excellence. Never has he been heard to better advantage here. From a rarely lovely Handel recitative and aria, through the graceful and fine nuances of the serenade from Lalo's "Le Roi d'Ys" to the modern French carnival song of Poldowski "Danzons is a giggle," his singing was lovely.

ly and full of meaning. Interpretation and beautiful diction that made each song a story told in tone that supplemented it, and also the ability to enter into the spirit of many kinds of songs, are his in abundance.

The Lemare war song, "The Bells of Rheims," was deeply impressive, telling in a variety of moods and tone pictures an unusual music setting of this grim history, with its ultimate victory. A choral enters in the bell song of consecration. It is all highly spiritual and profoundly moving. The exquisite Mahin "Dune Prison" held one of the rarest of accompaniments of the many that brought the art of Carl Lamson to a pinnacle of perfection.

Joseph Mathin played with great beauty and displayed his complete mastery in the fluent and delicately colored tone work of his instrument. The "Dance of the Elves" of Poppa was a broad, technical reading with the type strongly delineated, while the authoritative reading of the Haydn concerto reached a climax in the double stops of the allegro and the cadenza, with its virtuoso execution and tone.

The program concluded with "The Star-Spanned Banner," sung by Miss Farrar and Mr. Hackett.

COURT TELLS TWO WHO BREAK TROTH
TO RETURN RINGS

NEW YORK, May 13.—In two remances that went awry the courts ordered the young women to return the diamond engagement rings. In demanding the return of a $100 ring, Isaac Cohen testified Miss Lillian Halpert had broken their engagement because he refused to claim exemption from military service. Justice Benedict, in the Supreme court, Brooklyn, directed Miss Halpert to return the ring or pay Cohen $400.

Nicholas Castina testified that Miss Mabel Forsbach, of Woodhaven, had been most demonstrative in her affection for him, signing her letters "Snookums" and "Mopsy," until he gave her a diamond engagement ring costing $251. Then her affection cooled, he said, and finally she broke off the engagement, but refused to return the ring. Judge Kennedy and a jury decided Miss Forsbach must return the ring or its equivalent in money.
